Julia MORRIS

MC/HOST
KEYNOTE SPEAKER
ENTERTAINER

With almost 30 years inspiring laughs across the world, Julia Morris is Australia's First Lady of Comedy - making her one of the country's most in-demand corporate entertainers and hosts who regularly thrills audiences at events ranging from award ceremonies through corporate team building to high-end functions.

Julia's career has taken her across the globe working with comedy royalty including Richard Pryor, Jason Alexander, Whoopi Goldberg, and Robin Williams. Back on home soil, Julia won the first Celebrity Apprentice, raising nearly $200,000 for Breast Cancer Research in the process before taking the reigns of Australia's Got Talent for the Nine Network.

Whilst comedy has made Julia a household name, she proves her versatility and talent transcends the genre with her current role as Gemma in the hit Nine Network drama House Husbands, winning the Most Popular Drama Logie for its first series, and for which Julia has received two consecutive nominations for Most Popular Actress. However, Julia Morris' position as one of Australia's most popular and prolific comedians working today is evident from her successful, award winning national tours including the recent No Judgement Tour.
